

participants' comments

about the « letters of fire » workshop

« I hasten to say that the workshop, in its content and its organization, was a refreshing change from the typical 'blah-blah-blah'. I liked the idea of breaking up the teaching sessions with multi-media presentation, with music and with practical exercises.... Not at all what I expected from a workshop based in an ancient spiritual tradition! » -- September, 2002

« The workshop was enriching in every sense. The quality of the information taught, as well as the pleasure that Jeff took [and shared] in presenting his unique approach to the letters. It was a terrific weekend, very intense and deeply satisfying. The workshop provided me with a solid basis of knowledge which, I am sure, will help me to deepen my knowledge of the Kabbalah and my 'sensitivity' to the different energies of letters. Thank you, Jeff, and again once: Bravo! » -- June, 2003

« New horizons were opened for me, or rather I rediscovered a forgotten universe that informs our present culture, all this given to me with the openness of heart and openness of mind that I appreciate so much in Jeff. I experienced in this workshop the joy of calligraphy, the pleasure of singing, the beauty of the sacred texts, the gift of sharing with others. I have a new tool for personal growth, because the teachings of the workshop encourage me to continue on my own path, accompanied, of course, by the powerful and sympathetic energy of the Hebrew letters. This workshop was a true gift and I thank the universe for it. Thanks as well to Jeff, who led the workshop with professionalism, with the richness of his inner world, and with his love that he shared with all of us. » -- August, 2004

« First, the encounter with the leader/guide of this marvellous journey: Jeff is a well-spring of love, of playfulness, of knowledge, all of this manifested in simplicity and unpretentiousness. He shares his knowledge with a marvelous energy and solicits our joyous participation. He is very organized, he takes us on a journey that leads to surprising discoveries, and all is shared with affection. I feel in my rightful place, my interior child exults, it is a moment of true happiness! Thank you, Jeff. » -- September, 2002

« I have sincerely enjoyed this workshop, and I recommend it warmly to all! Anyone who wishes to understand the Hebrew letters... this is a great place to start. [The content of the workshop was] very dense. I gained knowledge in so many ways, knowledge that I have been seeking for years. » -- May, 2005